

Information and Statistics

Article 8 h) of the Belém do Pará Convention

	STRUCTURAL	PROCESS	RESULTS
RECEPTION OF THE RIGHT
Indicator	Regulations covering the State's obligation to conduct regular surveys on different manifestations of violence against girls and adolescents, adult women and elderly women. Consider both the private and the public as a scenario where violence happens. R1, R38 Regulations covering the State's obligation to keep administrative records (police, judicial, prosecution service, defence offices, social services, health, etc.) on the different cases of violence against girls and adolescents, adult women and elderly women in its various manifestations. R1, R39 Regulations appointing the competent authority for coordinating efforts to ensure complete administrative records. R1, R39 Regulations covering the State's obligation to conduct regular research and studies to monitor and assess policies, plans, programs, strategies, and actions. R1, R37 Regulations that provides free access to information of statistical nature generated by public sector institutions. R1, R37	Number of reports presented by the country to international oversight agencies in connection with the right to a life without violence, using official information, studies, and statistics. R24 Number of reports presented by the country to international oversight agencies in connection with the access to justice for all women, especially on organs and procedures available, the advantages and obstacles that present and the both national and customary standards used to administer justice.	Legislation covering public access to the information gathered (through surveys and administrative records). R38 Regular publication of statistics prepared and studies carried out. R37 Number of surveys on violence against women. R38
Qualitative signs of progress	Number and characteristics of public sector institutions producing or generating statistical information on violence against women. Number and characteristics of civil society organizations requesting access to public information considering organizations	Periodic statistical reports on violence against women. R40 Qualitative reports that interpret and contextualize the statistics of violence against women. R40

	STRUCTURAL	PROCESS	RESULTS
	particularly working with girls and adolescents, adult women and elderly women of diverse ethnic origin, Afro-descendants, rural, with disabilities, with different sexual preferences, by their sexual identity, migrants, refugees, displaced persons or deprived of their freedom.	Number of parallel reports presented by civil society to international oversight agencies in connection with the right to a life without violence, using official information, studies, and statistics. R40
BASIC FINANCIAL CONTEXT AND BUDGETARY COMMITMENTS
Indicator	Specific laws including budgetary allocations for meeting information production obligations. R1, R34  National budget law with earmarks for meeting information production obligations. R1, R34	Publication of reports on budget allocations and execution. R35, R36, R37  Percentage of public spending assigned to the development of databases with information on different forms of violence. R36	Percentage of the execution of the budget allocated for programs, plans, and institutions related to different forms of violence against women. R35, R36, R37
Qualitative signs of progress	Number and characteristics of civil society organizations involved in budget oversight initiatives and budget execution.	Transparency and public information on the budget and its execution. R35, R37	Publication of final reports on the budget and its execution. R37
STATE CAPACITIES
Indicator	Agreements and/or cooperative ties between the national women's mechanism / the competent authorities in the area of violence (at different public agencies) and the national agency responsible for the official statistics used to produce quality information on different forms of violence against girls and adolescents, adult women and elderly women. R18, R42  Existence of offices, secretariats, or specialized state mechanisms for producing information, studies, and statistics. Coverage by jurisdictions (national, state, provincial, local). R39, R41  Existence of studies on sentences and opinions that contains stereotypes, prejudices, myths and customs in the cases of women victims of	Processes for negotiating agreements and/or cooperative technical ties between the national women's mechanism / the competent authorities for violence (at different public agencies). R42	Existence and availability of regular databases or other sources of information on different forms of violence. R40  Number of the public sector institutions that have specific units on generation of statistical information. R40

	STRUCTURAL	PROCESS	RESULTS
	violence, and the use of the personal history of the victim and / or her sexual experience to deny justice to her. R29
Qualitative signs of progress	Production reports, specialized studies from various disciplines on violence against women and femicide with statistical bases. R40 Periodic reports about studies on sentences and opinions that contains stereotypes, prejudices, myths and customs in the cases of women victims of violence, and the use of the personal history of the victim and / or her sexual experience to deny justice to her. R29	Existence of mechanisms for access to updated statistical information (accessible and timely) R40 Existence of mechanisms for mass dissemination of national statistics on violence against women. R40	Periodic reports of social perception on the issue of violence against women. R38